IV. SLIP TEST

A. Read the following passage :

I did not know anything for certain. What sex was the snake, was it male or female ? I will never know ; for the snake unwound itself from my arm and slowly slithered into my lap. From there it crept onto the table and moved towards the mirror. Perhaps it wanted to enjoy its reflection at closer quarters.

I was no more image cut in granite. I was suddenly a man of flesh and blood. Still holding my breath I got up from the chair. I quietly went out through the door into the veranda. From there I leapt into the yard and ran for all I was worth."

"Phew !" Each of us heaved a sigh of relief. All of us lit beedis. Somebody asked, "Doctor, is your wife very fat ?"

"No," the doctor said. "God willed otherwise. My life companion is a thin reedy person with the gift of a sprinter."

Someone else asked, "Doctor, when you ran, did the snake follow you ?"

The doctor replied, "I ran and ran till I reached a friend's house. Immediately I smeared oil all over myself and took a bath. I changed into fresh clothes. The next morning at about eight - thirty I took my friend and one or two others to my room to move my things from there. But we found we had little to carry. Some thief had removed most of my things. The room had been cleaned out ! But not really, the thief had left behind one thing as a final insult !"

"What was that ?" I asked.

The doctor said, "My vest, the dirty one. The fellow had such a sense of cleanliness ... ! The rascal could have taken it and used it after washing it with soap and water."

"Did you see the snake the next day, doctor ?"

The doctor laughed, "I've never seen it since. It was a snake which was taken with its own beauty !"

A. Read the following passage :

The runway felt different this time. It started him for a brief moment. Then it all hit him like a wet bale of hay. The bar was set at nine inches higher than his personal best. "That's only one inch off the National record," he thought. The intensity of the moment filled his mind with anxiety. He began shaking off the tension from his body. It wasn't working. He became more tense. "Why is this happening to me now ?" he thought. He began to get nervous. Fear would be a more accurate description. What was he going to do ? He had never experienced these feelings. Then out of nowhere, and from the deepest depths of his souls, he envisioned his mother. Why now ? What was his mother doing in his thoughts at a time like this ? It was simple. His mother always used to tell him whenever he felt tense, anxious or even scared, to take deep breaths.

So he did. Along with shaking the tension from legs, he gently laid his pole at his feet. He began to stretch out his arm and upper body. The light breeze that was once there was now gone. He could feel a trickle of cold sweat running down his back. He carefully picked up his pole. He felt his heart pounding. He was sure the crowd did, too. The silence was deafening. When he heard the singing of some distant robins in flight, he knew it was his time to fly.

Answer the following questions in three to four sentences.

(4 × 1½ = 6)

- What confused Michael for a short period ? What happened to him when he was on the runway ?
  - What was Michael's personal best and what was the National record ?
  - Why did Michael envision his mother when he felt nervous in his final jump ?
  - Why did Michael experience anxiety, tension, nervousness and fear ? How did he overcome those emotions ? Is it usual or unusual ? Justify your statement.

I. Read the following passage :

Now on planes when the food is delivered, my wife says : "Take the lids off the food for Daddy" or "Put your hoods up, children. Daddy's about to cut his meat." Of course, this is only when I am flying with my family. When I am on my own, I don't eat, drink or lean over to tie my shoelaces, and never put a pen anywhere near my mouth. I just sit very, very quietly, sometimes on my hands to keep them from flying out unexpectedly and causing liquid mischief. It's not much fun, but it does at least cut down on the laundry bills. I never did get my frequent flyer miles. by the way.

I never do. I couldn't find the card in time. This has become a real frustration for me. Everyone I know - everyone - is forever flying off to Bali first class with their air miles. I never get to collect anything. I must fly 100,000 miles a year, yet I have accumulated only about 212 air miles divided between twenty-three airlines.

This is because either I forget to ask for the air miles when I check in, or I remember to ask for them but the air line then manages not to record them, or the check-in clerk informs me that I am not entitled to them. In January, on a flight to Australia - a flight for which I was going to get about a million air miles - the clerk shook her head when I presented my card and told me I was not entitled to any.

"Why ?"

"The ticket is in the name of B. Bryson and the card is in the name of W. Bryson."

I explained to her the close and venerable relationship between Bill and William, but she wouldn't have it.

So I didn't get my air miles, and I won't be flying to Bali first class just yet. Perhaps just as well, really, I could never go that long without eating.

Answer the following questions in three to four sentences each.

(4 × 1½ = 6)

1. What precautions does the narrator take when he travels alone ?
2. Why did the narrator's wife say to the children, "Take the lids off the food for Daddy" ?

3. What kind of person was the narrator ? How can you justify your opinion ?
4. Did the narrator do all the awkward things intentionally or accidentally ? Give your reasons.

II. Read the following passage.

Gandhi's luggage is thrown onto the station platform. A blast of steam from the engine.

A policeman and the conductor are pulling Gandhi from the First Class car. Gandhi is clinging to the safety rails by the door, a briefcase clutched firmly in one hand. The European cracks on Gandhi's hands with his fist, breaking Gandhi's grip and the policeman and conductor push him across the platform. It is ugly and demeaning.

Disgustedly, Gandhi rights himself on the platform, picking up his briefcase, his face a mixture of rage, humiliation, impotence. The conductor hurls Gandhi's book at his feet as the train starts to move.

Answer the following questions in three to four sentences each.

(4 × 1 = 4)

5. If you were in Gandhi's place, how would you react ?
6. Why was Gandhi thrown out of the train ?
7. What is ugly and demeaning ?

- B) The European cracked on Gandhi's fist that was holding safety rails of the door.
- C) The European's luggage was thrown onto the station platform.
- D) Finally they succeeded in throwing Gandhi out.
- E) The European threw the book at Gandhi's feet and the train moved.

III. Read the passage given below focussing on the parts that are underlined. Answer the questions as directed and write them in the answer booklet.

(4 × 1 = 4)

9. (i) Birds eat different kinds of food. They are insect - eaters, birds of prey, scavengers that eat dead animals and birds that like many different kinds of food. (ii) The sharp, strong beak of the woodpeckers is good for digging nests in wood as well as for digging out insects from tree trunks. The curved beak of a hawk is excellent for tearing up a small animal such as a field mouse. Its sharp nails too are a help in catching small animals. The kingfisher has a bill suited for fishing. (iii) It is the most talented bird in catching fish.

Many birds eat seeds. Short, strong bills are good for breaking seeds. (iv) Some birds catch insects in the air.

- i) Add a suitable question - tag.
- ii) Rewrite the sentence using 'not only - but also'.
- iii) Rewrite beginning with 'no other'.

(4 × ½ = 2)

(10) Gandhi's luggage is threw onto the station platform. (11) A blast of steam in the engine. (12) A policeman and a conductor are pulling Gandhi from the First Class car. (13) Gandhi is clinging to the safety rails at the door, a briefcase clutched firmly in one hand.

- V.14. Julius Caesar compares himself to the Northern Star. Despite being such a great emperor, there are certain flaws in his character which lead to his downfall. Being one of the citizens in the mob, listening to the funeral oration by Antony, you feel deeply moved by Caesar's untimely death. (4)
